Teenager fights for life after car crash

A TEENAGER is fighting for his life after a two-vehicle crash left him with critical head injuries.

The 16 year old was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge following the accident on the Haverhill bypass near the Burton End roundabout.

yesterday morning. Police are appealing for witnesses to the collision which happened at around 9.45pm on Tuesday.

Two cars, a red Fiat Panda and a silver Ford Fiesta, were in collision on the A1017/A1307 roundabout leading to the Clements Estate.

The teenage male passenger in the Fiesta was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital after being treated by a Magpas medic airlifted in by Cambridgeshire police's helicopter.

He was found trapped in the car and was freed by a team of firefighters and paramedics.

Paramedics airlifted him to hospital with life-threatening head injuries and he remains in a critical condition.

The female drivers of both cars were also taken to Addenbrooke's with minor injuries.

The road was closed with diversions overnight, and was reopened at 7.45am on Wednesday morning.

Haverhill paramedic Mark Milson said: "We found the lad trapped in the car and working together managed to free him and give him treatment at the side of the road. We had crews from Bury, Haverhill and Newmarket as well as the Magpas medic.

"It was a great effort by all the services working together.

Pedigree premiere screening

A HOLLYWOOD blockbuster is to be premiered in Haverhill in aid of our St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal.

Cineworld Haverhill is to host the regional premiere of Marley & Me, the new smash-hit movie starring big screen icons Jennifer Aniston and Owen Wilson – two weeks before it goes on general release.

The event on Friday, February 27, is the first movie premiere to be held in the Suffolk town, and all proceeds from ticket sales will go straight to our £40,000 appeal.

Paul Willden, the cinema's general manager, said: "We are proud to be able to host this event.

"The hospice provides an amazing service for the people of Haverhill. This is our little way to help give something back to both them, and the community.

"I hope the event is a real success."

Distributor 20th Century Fox and cinema operator Cineworld have agreed to pass on the proceeds of the event to the Weekly News fundraising campaign.

paig in aid of the hospice's plans to care for residents in Haverhill and surrounding villages in their own homes, rather than making the 40-mile round trip to the hospice in Bury St Edmunds.

Thanks to the generosity of our readers, businesses and other local organisations and fundraisers, we have already raised more than £30,000 for the cause.

The film screening starts at 8pm, and tickets cost £7 per person for both adults and children.

Tickets for the event are already on sale at the cinema's box office. People who attend will also receive a goody bag on the night.

To book call the box office on 0871 2002000.

Who is Marley?

MARLEY & Me (PG) is a heartwarming and heartbreaking tale about "the world's worst dog", based on John Grogan's best-selling memoir.

John (Owen Wilson) and Jenny Grogan (Jennifer Aniston) are smitten newlyweds working for rival newspapers in West Palm Beach, Florida. When the topic of children is raised, John confesses to his friend Sebastian (Eric Dane) that he might not be prepared for their arrival, so Sebastian suggests buying Jenny a puppy instead. And along comes Marley, a cute yellow Labrador plucked from an equally adorable litter. Problem is, puppies turn into dogs, and soon Marley is transforming the Grogan household into a war zone as he falls obedience classes, chews the sofa, eats expensive jewellery, rifles through the dustbins, steals the Thanksgiving turkey and drinks the toilet water – among other misdemeanours.

But as the Grogans change jobs, move houses and welcome new arrivals into the world, Marley is permanently by their side, bringing out the best in them.

Council 'let us down'

MOTORISTS were taken on a "merry-go-round" because of floods, black ice and "crazy" diversions.

That's according to former Haverhill town councillor, Chris Cullum, who slammed the county council as a "disgrace" for "letting the town down" a day after the floods.

He said: "I was trying to get to Sainsbury's and it was a joke. It was an absolute disgrace that the road was still closed. Suffolk County Council don't seem to have even attempted to clear the road and the diversion it put in took me back to the bypass."

"I was really cheesed off. Then there were four cars in the ditch because of the ice."

"When I got to the A1307 it was like a ghost town with so many people trying to get out of Haverhill but trapped by the stupid merry-go-round of diversions, black ice making roads impassable because the council haven't gritted them."

"I am sorry to say the council is letting down the people of Haverhill. What if there is even worse flooding? How will they deal with that having been absolutely useless at dealing with the bit of flooding we had this week."

■ FLOODED . . . Dudley Haydock outside his home on the A1307 in Withersfield.

Road problems 'putting lives at risk'

FAILURE to tackle repeated flooding problems next to a treacherous road is putting lives at risk, a resident has warned. Retired Dudley Haydock has been unable to flush his toilet and left to put up with "constant" flooding outside his home next to the A1307 in Withersfield since November.

The road, running past the 64 year old's home at Hanchett House, was again blocked on Tuesday following heavy rainfall, due to a 2ft deep pool of water outside his front door, caused by blocked water pipes.

He told the Weekly News there have been three accidents in recent weeks caused by puddles on the road, with one car ending up in a field, and blasted St Edmundsbury Borough Council to failing to sort out the problem.

He said: "Are they going to wait until someone gets killed before they do something? It's getting beyond a joke.

"They keep coming out here and having meetings and taking photographs, but they've still not cleared it. The water is lapping up outside my door, and the whole driveway needs to be redone because of the damage."

"They've got to open up the pipe to see what the problem is. The last three months have been dreadful for me."

The drainage pipe is designed to take water from the roadside gullies down to the river, which the former lorry driver also believes needs to be dredged out to solve the problem.

Mr Haydock said: "They've done nothing down here at all since the by-pass was built 10 years ago."

A spokeswoman for St Edmundsbury Borough Council said: "An in-depth investigation is due to be carried out this week to find out what is causing the problems and which agency is responsible for them."

Homes evacuated in flood water chaos

A DOZEN people had to be evacuated from their homes as flooding caused chaos in the Haverhill area on Tuesday.

Several roads around the town were closed or blocked by pools of water, as a month's worth of rainfall fell in just 10 hours.

The downpour left drains struggling to cope with the deluge, and 12 people were evacuated from their homes in the nearby village of Steeple Bumpstead.

A stretch of the A1307 in Haverhill was closed by police near the junction with the A1017, and motorists were left stranded on the A143 at Little Wratting as a storm drain cover spewed out water on to the road.

A Suffolk police spokeswoman said: "The roads all have reports of flooding, many with vehicles stuck."

"The A143 at Little Wratting seems

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

to be the worst hit, as we have received five different calls from that location."

Motorists heading towards Clare from the town reported being turned back due to rising water levels, and drivers trying to get to Bury St Edmunds on the A143 also experienced difficulty.

A motorist said: "There was lots of water on the road. People were having to drive partly on the pavement to get past."

Over the county border, Essex police reported they had evacuated people from their houses in Steeple Bumpstead.

A spokeswoman said: "Officers attended Steeple Bumpstead with colleagues from the marine unit in the early hours of the morning following reports of flooding."

"A number of residents in four properties in Water Lane were roused and some made their own arrangements to stay elsewhere."

But spokeswoman for Stanley Drapkin Primary School, in Bower Hall Drive in the village, insisted it was business as usual.

She said: "The school is open, all the staff are in and most of the pupils are here too. Everything looks fine here in the village, the roads are clear, I think it's just in the roads surrounding Steeple Bumpstead where there have been problems. I know the road to Saffron Walden has been closed."

A spokeswoman for the East of England Ambulance Service she it had not received any calls from the village.

Warnings were also in place on the River Stour from Kedington, near Haverhill, to Sudbury and the River Gipping from Stowmarket to Needham Market, as well as the Rattlesden River.

Crash teen left fighting for life

"The road had a covering of water which turned to ice making it very treacherous."

Emergency services dealt with a spate of accidents on Suffolk's roads as a result of the treacherous conditions.

In just 12 hours, Suffolk police were called to 32 crashes in the county with a number of cars over-turning on slippery roads.

Sub-zero temperatures overnight saw pools of water from Tuesday's floods freeze over, causing hazardous conditions for motorists.

Inspector Graham Burch urged drivers to be careful and allow plenty of time for their journeys.

He said: "Virtually all of them have been caused by the weather."

"Drive carefully and make sure windscreens are clear before starting on journeys and check your lights to ensure the vehicle is in working order."

Withersfield Road in Haverhill was closed yesterday after a blue Vauxhall Corsa and a grey Mini collided at 6.46am, blocking the road. No-one was hurt.

A car also had to be pulled from a ditch in Great Barton, near Bury St Edmunds, after it spun off the road at 6.46am and a Renault Laguna left the road on Sandy Lane in Barham at 7.05am.

Anyone with any information about the serious collision in Haverhill should contact Pc Andy Fossey at the Serious Collision Investigation Team on (01473) 613500.

Vandals strike

VANDALS targeted a wooden Wendy House at a school.

The attack happened in School Lane, Haverhill, between 4pm on Friday, February 6, and 8am on Monday.

Witnesses should call Pc Ben Vann at Haverhill police station on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Police join forces with institute

POLICE officers in Suffolk are being offered the chance to improve their career and future prospects through a new arrangement with a management institute.

The opportunity is available thanks to a special arrangement between Suffolk Police, the National Policing Improvement Agency (NPIA) and the Chartered Management Institute (CMI).

It will give officers access to management and leadership resources and match police training to nationally recognised qualifications.

The CMI will accredit the core and senior leadership development programmes delivered by the police. As a result, successful candidates will be awarded qualifications recognised by employers across the police and civilian sectors.

The arrangement between NPIA and the CMI means serving and retired police personnel qualify for guaranteed fast track membership of the institute.

Richard Sewell, head of business development at the CMI, said: "Police officers across the region now have the chance to develop high levels of management and leadership skills.

"Our partnership also demonstrates how police forces recognise the benefits gained from encouraging officers to become a member of a professional body.

"The accreditation the institute provides the police service enables officers to be successful, both now and in the future, by achieving qualifications through continuous professional development."

Cutting down on winter fuel costs

Haverhill Citizens Advice Bureau this month offers advice on reducing fuel bills.

Q: I've heard on the news that there are new measures available to make my fuel bills cheaper. I'm not a pensioner so don't get winter fuel allowance - what am I entitled to?

A: The Government announced in September that every household will now qualify for at least 50 per cent off loft and cavity wall insulation and a range of other energy saving devices such as low energy light bulbs, real time displays and energy saver plugs are also available. Eleven million lower income and pensioner households qualify for these free of charge. More information is available by calling 0800 512012.

■ You may be able to reduce your fuel bills by choosing a payment method which offers a discount, by efficient use of gas and electricity or by insulating your home. Check carefully the terms of the payment schemes and social tariffs your fuel supplier offers and consider switching to save.

■ If you are in receipt of certain benefits you could access the Warm Front scheme. This provides energy advice and grants to help with the costs of home insulation. More information is available by calling 0800 3162805.

■ Some energy suppliers have set up independent charitable trusts which give grants to some of their customers to help them pay off arrears on their bills. See www.britishgasenergytrust.org.uk or www.edfenergytrust.org.uk for more information.

Drugs officers raid 10 homes, arrest three and blitz A1307

TEN homes have been raided by police during a crack-down on drugs.

Officers targeted the A1307 in a bid to sever a drugs route from Cambridge and made several arrests, seizing cash and drugs during an operation in Haverhill on Friday.

Sixty police officers, staff and officials took part in the crackdown. The Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) Intercept Team and a drugs dog were also deployed.

Inspector Andrew Mason, who led the operation, hailed it as a success.

He said: "This operation was carried out for two reasons - first, a number of people from the town were in hospital over Christmas having taken illegal substances cut with ketamine. This is a worrying development that we are keen to stamp out.

"Secondly, members of the community have spoken to us, concerned about the misuse of drugs, offences such as thefts from motor vehicles, or anti-social behaviour.

"We have acted on this information to identify properties to carry out searches and areas of the town to patrol.

"On Friday, Class A and B drugs worth hundreds of pounds, along with cash, stolen property and uninsured vehicles were all taken off the streets of Haverhill.

"This operation has sent out a strong message that the supply and use of drugs in the town will not be tolerated."

A fixed penalty notice was issued to a 47-year-old woman for possession of cannabis and a warning was given to a 29-year-old man for possession of cannabis.

A 36-year-old man from Haverhill was arrested on suspicion of possession of methadone and money laundering and bailed to return to Bury police station on March 31.

A 26-year-old man from Haverhill was arrested on suspicion of production of cannabis and bailed to return to Bury police station on March 31.

A 53-year-old man, also from Haverhill, was also arrested on a non-payment of fines warrant and taken to Bury Magistrates' Court.

The ANPR Intercept Team spent six hours monitoring the A1307 following information received concerning drugs supply from Cambridge.

■ CRACKDOWN . . . police raid a house in Jay Close, Haverhill - one of 10 properties that were searched for drugs.

Four vehicles were seized for having no insurance and a man was arrested and later charged with possession of an offensive weapon and cannabis.

Jason Nunn, 31, of Withersfield Road, Haverhill, is due before Bury magistrates on February 19.

The passive drugs dog prompted seven searches. No drugs were found but 12 litres of alcohol were seized from under-age drinkers.

Busway extension mooted

AMBITIOUS plans to bring the guided busway as far south as Haverhill have been signalled.

The county council's transport supremo said an extension would be "seriously" considered if Cambridge's guided busway is judged to be a success.

Guy McGregor, Suffolk County Council's lead member for public transport and highways, mooted the project after announcing plans to invest £230,000 in transport projects in Haverhill.

Cllr McGregor said: "It's going to end up at Addenbrooke's and it could be that we could use the old railway and connect it to the guided busway so people get out of their cars and don't use that awful road between here and Cambridge [the A1307].

"If it's a success in Cambridge we need to think quite seriously about linking to that."

The Cambridge guided busway is currently being built at a cost of more than £100 million to open late this summer.

New yoga class for fitness babes

MUMS and babies are feeling the benefit of a yoga class in Haverhill. Kirsty Cummins is running the Roly Boo's baby yoga class once a week at the town's arts centre. She has completed part of her training and the next step requires her to run some classes to build up her experience, which she does each Wednesday from 10am to 11.30am. Kirsty said: "It's beneficial for the babies but also for the mums – they get out and meet other mums, it's good for them socially and they learn coping mechanisms." She takes along her daughter Florence, aged seven months. She said: "She's my assistant." The classes started in January, and are suitable for babies from 12 weeks to when they start crawling. The cost is £18 for a six-week course but the first session is free. Kirsty says she hopes to boost numbers and that she may introduce a class for toddlers as well. To book a place call her on 07813 019810.

Youth art show

ARTWORK by talented youngsters from Haverhill goes on show in the town this week. Photos, drawings and paintings by youngsters in Years 10 to 13 at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College will be on display at the 1st Floor Gallery in Chalkstone Way. After a private viewing tomorrow evening, they will be on show from 9am-4pm on Saturday, and from 1pm-5pm on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

School service

YOUNGSTERS in a Haverhill church congregation celebrated Education Sunday last week. St Felix Roman Catholic Church invited youngsters from St Felix school, as well as other pupils in the town, to attend mass in their school uniforms to mark the national event. Teachers and pupils provided the readings for the service.

Health pods are lifted in

PODS which will make up Haverhill's new temporary health centre were lifted into place this week.

The makeshift buildings for the new GP-led health centre are being sited in the Corn Exchange car park.

Once they have been fully connected to mains utilities and have safe access, they will form a centre that offers GP services from 8am until 8pm, seven days a week.

The building – which will be known as The Practice Crown Health Centre – will cater for both registered and non-registered patients, offering appointments alongside a walk-in service from spring 2009.

It will be run by a group of GPs who will be working alongside the three existing family doctor practices in Haverhill.

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

An NHS Suffolk spokeswoman said: "NHS Suffolk has been working with The Practice plc to ensure that every aspect of the service will run smoothly.

"Once open, patients will be able to use the centre to access usual GP services and other facilities, including minor injuries and blood testing, along with clinics for substance and alcohol misuse, weight management, smoking, sexual health, contraceptives and childhood obesity.

"Meanwhile, planning is underway to secure a permanent home for the services, which could involve a purpose-built centre or refurbished facility."

Work a tonic in scheme

A £360,000 grant will help depressed people in Cambridgeshire get back to work.

NHS Cambridgeshire has received the cash boost from the Department of Work & Pensions.

The money will be used to provide psychological therapies for people suffering from anxiety and mild depression, and will also be part of a push to help sufferers stay in work rather than being signed off sick.

This is part of a pilot scheme which was introduced in the county last year, which will see 58 extra therapists recruited by the summer.

John Ellis, head of mental health commissioning at NHS Cambridgeshire, said: "The pilot aims to identify what interventions work best in keeping people with mental health needs in work, rather than claiming benefits, which is even more important during the economic downturn."

Festival set for good reactions

COSMIC adventures and explosive lectures on the discoveries that shaped our world are set to draw in the crowds at the UK's largest free science festival.

The Cambridge Science Festival is co-ordinated by Cambridge University and will feature science from the past, present and future to celebrate its 800th year.

Researchers will share their love of science and museums and research establishments will throw open their doors.

The fun-filled event attracts up to 30,000 visitors from across the region. This year it has more than 160 attractions set to run over a fortnight.

It runs from March 9 to 22 and many of the interactive activities, demonstrations and children's lectures will take place on two Science on Saturday events to be held on March 14 and 21.

There will also be readings and book signing by Lucy Hawking, Stephen Hawking's daughter, who will give a sneak preview of George and the Cosmic Treasure Hunt.

Other notable guests include Carol Vorderman, Chris Bishop, Microsoft's chief research scientist; and the explosive demonstrations of Dr Pete Wothers looking at the unique properties of water.

This year's festival features its first concert, Musicians from the Intercontinental Music Lab, unleashing scientists from the past singing about their discoveries, as well as live demonstrations and audience participation.

A Question Time-style panel will discuss stem cells and will feature experts including Sir Ian Wilmut, the creator of Dolly the Sheep.

Nicola Buckley, festival co-ordinator, said: "The Cambridge Science Festival in 2009 is the biggest yet."

"We can show young people what scientific study can lead to when they meet the many hundreds of staff and students on hand to demonstrate exciting science."

The full programme is available on the festival's website www.cambridge-science.org or from the information line on (01223) 766766.

Those interested in any of the events that require booking should do so soon because of some venues' space limitations.

Boundary bid delayed again

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Haverhill residents face three more months of uncertainty over plans to create a single council to provide all services.

A public consultation on plans to create unitary authorities – including a Suffolk Rural council stretching from Haverhill to the east coast – has been extended until July by the Government.

If the move gets the green light, the new authority would replace all existing county and district councils.

But the delay means the change would not be made until April 2011, and the Conservatives have pledged to ditch the scheme if they win the next election.

Opponents hope the delay could spell the end of the Boundary Committee for England (BCE) proposals to scrap Suffolk, Norfolk and Devon county councils.

A recommendation had been due to be published this month, but has now been put back by Secretary of State Hazel Blears to July 15.

If she accepts the final recommendations, she will lay parliamentary orders in December and elections for the new authorities will be held in May 2010, with the councils coming into effect a year later.

Cllr John Griffiths, leader of St Edmundsbury Council, led a counter-action to try to persuade the Government to throw out the BCE's plans and support unitary councils for Greater Ipswich, West Suffolk and East Suffolk. He said: "We've worked very hard to put forward our case both in terms of

COUNTER ACTION...
John Griffiths.

West Suffolk and Suffolk as a whole.

"This delay gives us the opportunity to ensure the wishes of our communities of West Suffolk and Suffolk will now be heard."

Ms Blears has written to affected councils saying she "recognises the importance of minimising the continuing period of uncertainty for the councils concerned".

The BCE said: "We welcome the Secretary of State's recognition that, in the light of the ongoing legal proceedings, it would be inappropriate for the committee to provide any advice by February 13."

More than £200,000 has already been spent so far on drawing up the plans.

Help for firms to weather storm

BUSINESSES were given tips to help beat the recession at a free event organised by two councils.

The one-day event, titled Here's Your Opportunity, was staged at historic Palace House in Newmarket and was arranged by St Edmundsbury Borough Council and Forest Heath District Council.

Emma Cooney, Forest Heath's economic development officer, said: "It was very well received.

We had 80 or so people through the door in the first hour."

She said the aim of the event, planned before the worsening economic situation, was to raise awareness of the business opportunities available in the area – including contracts with the US Air Force bases, projects associated with the London 2012 Olympics and work available through the councils. The event was extended to include relevant business advice, support and training opportunities which could help businesses weather the recession.

Miss Cooney said she had received inquiries from businesses as far away as Watford, Norwich and Felixstowe as well as a range of locally-based companies.

The event was the first of its kind staged by the two councils and could be repeated in the future.

Appeal to keep warm

HEALTH bosses in Cambridgeshire this week urged people to ensure they keep warm during the cold snap.

Health body NHS Cambridgeshire is running a "Keep Warm, Keep Well" campaign after temperatures plunged and heavy snowfall hit the region.

Dr Liz Robin, its director of public health, issued a list of top tips for keeping warm.

She said: "Try to keep your home warm by setting your heating to the right temperature – around 21C during the day.

"If you feel cold at night, use a hot water bottle or electric blanket – but never use both together. You can keep warm by eating well – food is a vital fuel."

People are also being urged to check on neighbours.

Trainee GP joins new town scheme

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

HAVERHILL'S first trainee GP has signed up to help patients while learning vital skills.

Dr Irina Butcher joined Dr Selby and Partners at Haverhill's Christmas Maltings Surgery as a trainee on a new scheme.

The training period will give qualified doctors the skills they need to become GPs.

Dr Mary Selby believes the town and practice will offer Dr Butcher a good grounding.

She said: "We have got nice patients in Haverhill, which is one of the most important things.

"The practice also has fantastic staff. Most of them have been with us for a very long time. As well as great doctors, we have an excellent nursing team. Trainees can learn an awful lot from practice nurses."

Dr Selby believes that being a GP involves work that is more "patient-centred" than that of hospital work.

She said: "There can be lots of other agencies involved with such patients - district nurses, social services, home carers or nursing homes. It is about learning how to pull together services and make things work for a patient."

Recession may hit jobs at hospice

BY Stephen Exley

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

JOBS at St Nicholas Hospice could be at risk due to a drop in donations caused by the recession.

The Bury St Edmunds Hospice, which treats many patients from the Haverhill area, is calling on residents to rally behind it to help the charity through the lean months ahead.

But the hospice, which needs to raise £3.7 million each year to cover its operating costs, has insisted Haverhill residents should not see any difference in services because of the economic uncertainty – and the plans for our Hospice at Home appeal for the town will not be affected by the credit crunch.

Staff and volunteers have been fully briefed about the financial situation, and trustees and managers are looking at ways of balancing the books for the coming year without compromising patients' care. A recruitment freeze is currently in place.

Barbara Gale, chief executive officer, said: "We are in an unprecedented global financial crisis, which changes daily and unfortunately hospices are not immune to the effects of a recession on their income.

We are doing all we can to protect jobs and, although I can confirm we are not making redundancies at the moment, we can't rule this out.

"We need the community to get behind us in this difficult time."

Paul Abbott, fundraising and marketing director, said: "Now more than ever, in this our 25th birthday year, we need the local community to help us fundraise.

"We have recently launched the 'it's a piece of cake to give £3 a month standing order' appeal, which TV chef Nigella Lawson has kindly lent her support to.

"We will be asking everyone in the community to sign up and hope they respond."

Prison visitor had cannabis in vehicle

A MAN arrested on a prison visit had a quantity of cannabis in his van, a court heard.

John Packer, 47, was detained after staff at Highpoint prison, near Haverhill, saw him pass something to a prisoner.

The prisoner swallowed the item. But police were called and Packer's van was searched in the prison car park and a wrap of 6gm of cannabis with a street value of £25 was found.

He told officers that the drug was for his own use.

David Stewart, defence solicitor, told magistrates at Bury St Edmunds that the charge only related to the cannabis found in Packer's van and did not relate to the object passed to the prisoner.

Packer, of Pearse Way, Purdis Farm, Ipswich, admitted illegal possession of cannabis and was fined £240.

He was also ordered to pay £15 victim surcharge and £60 prosecution costs.

CUSTOMERS to the newly restyled Rose and Crown Hotel can enjoy a traditional, home-cooked carvery every day of the week.

Located at Withersfield Road in Haverhill, this popular pub and restaurant has been given a new lease of life since it was taken over by Opal Inns last November.

The pub has been refurbished inside and out to ensure customers find the atmosphere as enjoyable as the quality, home-cooked food.

Graeme Copeland, managing director at Opal Inns, says: "We have introduced our 'Credit Crunch Carvery' which offers customers a choice of delicious home-cooked roasts with all the trimmings for just £3.95 from Monday to Saturday. I honestly don't think you can find such great quality food and as much as you can eat at better value, anywhere in this area."

The carvery includes a choice of freshly roasted meats and a huge selection of vegetables and salads which are all sourced locally. Until February 28, customers can also enjoy a glass of wine or soft drink for free with their meal by using the voucher on this page.

The comfortable restaurant can cater for up to 100 diners and there is additional seating in the charming bar area, where customers can choose from a selection of traditional pub snacks.

If you are looking for a relaxing night away or have friends visiting and need somewhere for them to stay then why not book a room at The Rose and Crown Hotel? The pub has a choice of 10 guest rooms offering a selection of single, twin or double rooms starting at £35 per person per night. Discounts are available for longer stays.

The Rose and Crown Hotel is at 1 Withersfield Road, Haverhill. For more information call the pub on (01440) 708446. There is plenty of parking onsite at the hotel.

£1.2 billion 'already set aside to rebuild A14'

BY Chris Elliott

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE cash is there – and we're getting ready to go.

The massive sum of money needed to rebuild the A14 – £1.2 billion – is being set aside in Treasury coffers.

Campaigners battling to get the Road to Hell revamped say they have been given the assurance by Lord Adonis, the Minister for Transport, who is responsible for strategic roads.

Four leading campaigners – Cambridgeshire MPs Andrew Lansley and Jim Paice, Cambridgeshire county councillor Matt Bradney, and John Bridge, chief executive of Cambridgeshire Chambers of Commerce, took part in a five-way telephone conference with the minister.

Mr Lansley said: "We asked Lord Adonis whether mechanisms could be found to proceed with some parts of the A14 scheme separately, to try to speed things up, bearing in mind that some aspects might still be subject to public inquiry.

"He wasn't able to say yes to all our suggestions, but he did say it might be possible to start preparatory work on access roads to the new town of Northstowe.

"However, he also told us that the money to rebuild the A14 is there – and that there is no question that the scheme will not be funded.

■ ASSURANCE . . . inset, Transport Minister Lord Adonis says the Treasury has put aside funds for the revamp of the A14 above.

"That is very good news.

"He also said that he understands the concerns of people in Cambridgeshire about the A14 and that he intends to take a personal interest in ensuring the scheme goes ahead."

Mr Bridge said: "Since we spoke I have written to the minister, thanking him for the funding commitment. I'm very encouraged that at last there has been a promise that the money will be there.

"What we now also need is an assurance that the Highways Agency will not repeat its past inadequacy and will ensure that it follows the correct procedures – and also get on with the scheme as quickly as possible."

News of the Government commitment to the A14 coincided with an announcement from the Department for Transport that local councils in East Anglia will get a £16 million boost to improve local roads.

The funding – in addition to the £272 million already allocated for highways maintenance in the region – will pay for projects like resurfacing.

Cambridgeshire's share of the money will total £1.14 million, paid over two years, and Hertfordshire will get £4.9 million. Suffolk will receive just over £1.8 million.

Traffic to be disrupted by pipe work

ONE of Cambridge's major roads is set for six weeks of disruption.

In less than a fortnight's time, National Grid will dig up part of Huntingdon Road so gas pipes underneath it can be upgraded.

A 200-metre stretch of the road will be affected, from the junction with Whitehouse Lane to the junction with Oxford Road, from Tuesday, February 17.

The road will be reduced to one lane, with traffic lights in operation from 8.30am to 5pm, although they will be taken down at the end of each working day, allowing normal two-way traffic flow to resume.

Huntingdon Road is one of the city's busiest arterial routes – with 15,000 vehicles streaming along it every day.

National Grid says the work is needed to replace the iron mains under the road with "new durable plastic pipes that have a life-span of 80 years if left undisturbed in the ground".

Construction engineer David Jewson said the traffic lights were necessary "to safeguard engineers and road-users while the work is under way".

He said: "These works are essential to ensure that local people can continue to enjoy safe and reliable gas supplies. Safety is our top priority and temporary traffic lights will be necessary.

"I would like to apologise for any inconvenience caused by our works. We will endeavour to complete the project as soon as we can."

Young stars bring the house down

YOUNG musicians showed off their solo skills.

Members of Haverhill Youth and Community Band (HYAC) took part in their annual solo competition at Westfield School.

The adjudicator was Charles Shipp, an ex-player and conductor with Haverhill Silver Band, and former euphonium champion of Great Britain.

Haverhill mayor and band president Les Ager presented the trophies, on his 100th official mayoral engagement.

The under-12 slow section was won by Kirsty Smith, 8, and the under-12 open winner was Alex Nightingale, 10. Lee Mayes was awarded first prizes in both over-12 sections. The youngsters can be heard along with around Band will join HYAC Band in a celebration of youth music in East Anglia.

Each band will perform a 20 minute programme supported by regular adult assistants, and

Artist to chalk up another fun session

A PASTEL workshop with renowned artist Elaine Dodsworth will take place in Haverhill next month.

The 1st Floor Gallery will host the event, which will run from 10am to 4pm on Saturday, March 7.

The Lower Downs Slade gallery organised the event after Elaine's one-day workshop in November proved to be a big success.

Elaine has tutored individuals, small groups and art clubs around Suffolk, and has had the opportunity to introduce pastels to many artists.

She said: "This is always a delight as many people shy away from this truly versatile and exciting medium."

A gallery spokesman said: "Competent in many different subjects, Elaine finds she is naturally drawn to seascapes which give her unending opportunities to capture the relationship between sky, the reflective surface of water and the landscape that supports our coastline.

"Incorporated within the subject is her love of tonal colour which she uses to bring a restful quality to her pictures."

Tickets cost £55 per person including materials and lunch, and spaces are limited.

MP hears of problems facing local businesses

BUSINESS leaders in Haverhill discussed their plans to beat the recession in a meeting with the town's MP.

Richard Spring, pictured right, spent more than an hour listening to the concerns of small firms based at the MENTA Business Centre, in Hollands Road, last Friday.

Issues discussed included increases in corporation tax, the need for a more stable housing market, what the Government

Mr Spring, vice-chairman of the Conservatives with responsibility for business and entrepreneurship, was invited to the meeting by St Edmundsbury Council, which is leasing the building to MENTA.

Mike Dawson, the council's corporate community director, said: "We were quite keen that Richard Spring made contact with small local businesses to listen to the problems they have in the current recession and that we could listen to their problems as well.

"It is useful for Richard to know so that he can take them back to his party.

"From our point of view, we want to do everything we can to help small businesses as well."

Warning: measles cases on the increase

MEASLES cases are on the rise.

The number of cases jumped more than a third in 2008, with 1,348 infections across England and Wales – a 36 per cent increase on 2007.

The Health Protection Agency (HPA) said there were 91 confirmed cases in the East of England, including 12 in Cambridgeshire.

The HPA was not able to supply figures stating the rise on previous years.

The rise has been blamed on a slump in the uptake of the measles, mumps and rubella (MMR) vaccine after research – now discredited – suggested MMR was linked to autism.

Dr Mary Ramsay, an HPA immunisation expert, said: "The year-on-year increase of measles across England and Wales is very worrying.

"Measles should not be taken lightly as you can never tell who will go on to develop the more serious complications of pneumonia and encephalitis.

"This is why it's incredibly important to remember that measles isn't a 'harmless' childhood disease and that it is never too late to get your child immunised with the MMR vaccine."

Take bite of local food

A COOKERY roadshow will showcase some of the region's tastiest food next month.

The Feast East festival is a family-focused event to highlight the benefits of feeding healthy locally-grown food to children and their families.

The two-day show will take place at Chilford Hall in Linton, on Friday, March 6 and Saturday, March 7, and will include a host of interactive events for children, teachers and parents.

Professional artists, gardeners and cooks will run a range of workshops inspired to educate visitors about healthy eating, the environment and agriculture.

Tickets for the event are between £5 to £7 for adults, while admission is free for children under 16. Additional costs apply for certain craft events.

City gig for soulful but shy songwriter

ACOUSTIC soul singer songwriter Ray LaMontagne returns to the Corn Exchange in Cambridge, on Thursday, February 19. The famously shy performer first emerged in 2004 with his debut album Trouble which he recorded after he was reputedly inspired by hearing a Stephen Stills song to quit his job and become a singer. The album was a slow growing success and it wasn't until two years later that it reached number 5 in the UK. For his second album Till the Sun Turns Black he added a horn section to his previous bare acoustic guitar accompaniment and then in October he released his third album Gossip in the Grain. Known for rarely giving interviews or speaking to his audiences, he has admitted that as well as Stephen Stills, he has also been influenced in his style by The Band, while critics compare him to Van Morrison and Tim Buckley. Tickets are £19.50 and the gig starts at 7pm. To book call the box office on (01223) 357851.

'Crazy, fun side of folk'

By Nik Shelton

EVEN the most hardcore traditional English folk musicians sometimes just want to make girls dance. That was certainly the case for two respected folk stalwarts, melodeon player John Spiers and fiddler Jon Boden, who have created one of country's most eclectic and original bands, Bellowhead. The pair were well known as a duo playing clubs and festivals up and down the country. But they found a new audience by recruiting a motley crew of instrumentalists to help them make a new kind of music utilising everything from bagpipes to flugel horns. The band's debut album Burlesque proved an instant hit in 2006 and they followed it up with Matachin which mixes Morris dances, sea shanties, broadside ballads and plenty of material from their own collective imagination. The title refers to a medieval sword dance which influenced early forms of Morris dancing and still flourishes in Latin America. It deftly reflects the kind of cultural cross over that defines the band. "The heart of it is that we play traditional English songs and tunes but we try and do it in as fun a way as possible, particularly live when we try and bring out the mad, crazy, fun side of English folk music which you don't necessarily see that much of," explains Jon.

"It's a jump-up-and-down sort of a gig rather than a sit-and-listen sort. "It was a bit frustrating when we were just a duo. We weren't often getting put on last at festivals but on the rare occasions that we did it was fantastic because when you're on last everyone dances. "So we thought it would be fun to have a band that could close the night – and then we thought if we're going to expand a bit we might as well expand a lot." Bellowhead now has 11 regular members and have become a much talked about force on the festival circuit. Bellowhead play The Junction in Cambridge on Sunday. Tickets are £17.50. Call (01223) 511511.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc. for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

Mégane Coupé turns on charm

LOOKS good, doesn't it? If you're going to call your car a coupé you might as well make an effort in the design department, writes Iain Dooley. Too many three-door hatchbacks get the coupé moniker but fail to live up to it.

Not so Renault's latest-generation Mégane. Even in five-door family-friendly form it's more streamlined. The three-door variant is also sleek, racy-looking and far more desirable than before.

That last sentiment is, obviously, subjective. With beauty being in the eye of the beholder and all that, the old car's bold haunches, upright tailgate and prominent nose did find favour with many buyers, but it was hardly coupé material. Which is probably why it wasn't called one.

But why buy a family-hatch-size car with only three doors if you're not interested in cars? The practicality argument doesn't hold water, so you might as well get something that looks good and drives well.

One out of two is usually all you can hope for with the current choice in the market. Renault's Mégane Coupé aims to tick both those boxes with its sophisticated looking and engaging three-door hatch, sorry, coupé.

In essence, Renault is treating this Mégane as a separate car with a separate personality from its five-door relative. The decision is justified, not least because the coupé model boasts a more daring, racy nose. At the rear the upright design of tailgate and window has gone, replaced by a rakish third door.

Overall the new look is a squat one – but in the nicest sense. The car's lowered and stiffened suspension is not only functional but also, it would appear, helps boost the car's visual appeal.

The car's dramatic sloping roof also does much to create an intimate cabin ambience. And true to form, the layout and execution of the various controls and displays are first rate.

It doesn't disappoint on the road, either. For all the references to "performance" and "sporty" characteristics the Mégane Coupé isn't, strictly speaking, a performance car. It's not a hot hatch, GTi-baiting machine, for instance. What it is, though, is brisk and rounded, reminding you that you don't have to be traveling at a million mph to have fun.

The Mégane Coupé achieves this through a combination of a supple ride (although it's lowered and stiffened slightly over the five-door), accurate steering and a range of impressive engines. From a variable valve 1.6 to a blown 2.0-litre petrol and a 1.5 to 1.9 diesel, there's no shortage of choice or power – the full span is from 86 to 180 horsepower.

Picking a high achiever is difficult, but the current market dictates that the 130 horsepower 1.9 diesel shouldn't be far from your mind. For the decadent among you the 2.0-litre turbo petrol motor and its 180 horsepower is also worth a look. Brisk, effortless progress is guaranteed.

With looks and image counting for a lot these days, Renault's Mégane Coupé is a breath of fresh air.

Basically

As a daily driver this Mégane works just like any other car, yet is more than capable of turning on the charm away from the daily grind.

Pick up an Impreza Turbo fast!

SUBARU is celebrating 15 years of its Impreza Turbo model by winding back prices to those of the 1994 launch model.

Subaru fans can take advantage of the recession-beating deal by picking up a 2009, 2.5-litre WRX Turbo version of the celebrated four-wheel drive hot-hatch for just £17,998 – saving £2,100 on the genuine 2009 price.

Subaru is hailing the offer as one of the best in its history and believes that, at 1994 prices, the 2009 Impreza WRX Turbo offers incredible value for money, particularly as the warranty is now even better than that of the 1994 model with a three-year, 60,000-mile warranty, 12-years anti-corrosion and three-year paintwork cover.

While the 2009 model's most obvious difference is its hatchback shape, as opposed to the saloon body of the 1994 original, Subaru says the key elements of a turbocharged engine, four-wheel drive grip from its symmetrical, low centre of gravity system and quirky character remain.

Power has increased by more than 20bhp in the 15 years between the two models and a considerably stiffer chassis has also improved the road-going qualities of the 2009 model.

"This is the last opportunity for Subaru WRX fans to buy into the latest, best Impreza WRX Turbo model at a price they were 15 years ago," said Lawrence Good, managing director, Subaru (UK).

"The Impreza has evolved a great deal over the years, yet has always offered a brilliant blend of practicality and performance – unrivalled by any of its competitors – while retaining its essential character as a fun, motorsport-honed, interesting, exciting daily driver with many unique charms. We shall miss the WRX Turbo when it is gone."

■ THEN AND NOW . . . the Subaru Impreza Turbo 15 years ago, left, and today, right.

■ PURPOSEFUL . . . the new Mazda3 has a more muscular look.

Mazda3: The ideal blend?

SMALL family cars are strutting their sporting credentials in ever-increasing numbers, even if it is more in the way of a muscular look, rather than under-bonnet biceps.

These modest machines need to stay climate-friendly, after all, and marques such as Mazda, which launches the new 3 range in spring, aims to satisfy buyers on all fronts.

The all-new Mazda3 blends a sporty design with equally feisty handling, yet comes with top-notch environmental consideration as standard.

Aggressive is the word Mazda uses to describe the new 3's silhouette, and a more purposeful single front grille further defines the car's sporty nature and links it directly to racy roadster the RX-8.

The Mazda3 will come in four trim levels in Britain, Base, Touring, Touring+ and Sport, whose equipment lists run from the extensive to the excellent.

Base grade gets traction control, front, side and curtain airbags, electric door mirrors, a tilt and telescope steering wheel, and a CD player with MP3 capability.

There's also the chance to buy-in Bluetooth technology for hands-free phones and wireless MP3 music, adaptive front lighting, dual-zone air-conditioning, keyless entry and ignition, parking sensors, auto-dimming rear-view mirror, heated windshield, and rain/light sensors.

As for the Mazda3's engines, there's a new 2.2-litre turbo diesel in high and standard power versions, a 1.6-litre turbo diesel, a 2.0-litre petrol, and a 1.6-litre petrol.

They all offer good mpg returns and low CO2 emissions, and will help the marque build on the success of the first-generation model.

That was launched in 2003, and quickly became Mazda's best-selling vehicle, reaching the one-million units production mark faster than any previous Mazda, before finding more than two million customers worldwide, and winning more than 90 international awards.

As for the new Mazda3 – details of pricing and full specifications will be released just before the launch.

Drive Vauxhall's Insignia delight

BACK in 1993, Sarah Ferrari joined Keith Brown Vauxhall in Haverhill as a sales lady and began her career with the firm.

Success in this role opened up the opportunity to move to Drive Vauxhall in Bury St Edmunds to take up the position of sales manager which she has held until recently when Sarah returned to Haverhill, newly promoted as the dealership's general manager.

Sarah currently lives in Bury St Edmunds, which is also why she moved to work there with her husband Simon and three children, George, Alfie and Isabella. She is really pleased however, to be back working with some of the original people that she grew up with. John and Pauline have made her feel especially welcome on her return.

Sarah is really pleased to be back and looking forward to reacquainting herself with many of her old customers over an impromptu coffee. Sarah's return has also coincided with some remarkable return to fortune of the dealership – with it recording its best-ever January sales figures.

When asked why this should have occurred in the worst of economic times and when the motor industry generally was suffering difficult trading conditions, Sarah replied: "It is all down to low prices and the fantastic deals that we are able to offer our customers. There really hasn't been a better time to buy a new car."

Examples of these low prices even extend to brand new models like the fantastic all-new Vauxhall Insignia. This car marks the start of a new era for Vauxhall and there are plenty of reasons for optimism.

The manufacturer has worked hard to broaden the appeal of the Insignia beyond that of the fleet-favourite Vectra and it certainly looks to have been successful. Its efforts to inject extra style and flair to the look of the car should be much appreciated, the front camera arrangement is neat and the optional four-wheel-drive system is an interesting addition to the medium-range sector.

This car is as sharp to drive as its Mondeo rival and the clever FlexRide system gives it a real technological edge. Overall, what's crucial is that the basics of this car seem to work. The Insignia looks a very desirable, cleverly designed package that will give its rivals something to really think about. You can buy an Insignia 1.8-litre hatchback Exclusive from Drive Vauxhall right now for just £12,999 which represents tremendous value for money for an all-new car.

Alternatively, you can take advantage of the fantastic prices offered on the run-out Vectra models that the new Insignia replaces. For example, a brand new Vectra 1.9-litre CDTi 150ps Exclusive at Drive Vauxhall will set you back just £11,999 – representing an incredible saving of £5,501.

So, it is no wonder that

Drive Vauxhall in Haverhill have been doing so well! Why not call in and see the impressive Vauxhall range for yourself? Sarah and her team will be only too happy to assist you. ## GIVE YOUR CAR A WINTER WORKOUT WITH THE RMIF

The onset of winter can be bad news for motorists. Little light, bad weather and worse roads conspire to make driving tiring, unpleasant, and sometimes even dangerous.

Every journey is an opportunity to prevent the worst from happening, and there is a great deal of preventative action that you can undertake yourself.

Before setting off:
make sure that the car has enough fuel let someone know your intended movements listen to traffic news and weather forecasts, and wear warm clothing.

Naturally, the need for seasonal preparation also extends to the various systems that run the car, so make sure that the anti-freeze in the car is fresh. Insufficient or 'old' anti-freeze can cause hose, water pump or other major units to fail leading to overheating. Anti-freeze should be changed every two years due to the deterioration of the corrosion inhibitors, or according to manufacturer recommendations.

Other things to do include:
make sure the battery is in good condition on cold mornings use a de-icer on windows, or a scraper - NEVER hot water check that the screen wash is not clogged and that the bottle is topped up for use, and make sure that an additive is used to stop it freezing check windscreen wipers for wear and replace them if necessary make sure that all heaters and ventilation systems are working so that misting is minimised give all external lights and mirrors a thorough clean headlamps should be correctly aligned the tread depth should be at least 1.6mm across the central three-quarters of the breadth of the tread and around the entire circumference, and there should be no cuts or cracks spray damp inhibitor into the door locks to prevent seizing up.

Once the car is ready for winter, you should make sure it is carrying emergency equipment so that, if the worst happens, you are ready too.

Useful supplies could include: torch, spare batteries and bulbs, screen scraper / de-icer, jump leads, warning triangle, first-aid kit, 'hands free' mobile phone / phone card / cash, blankets and warm jacket / robust shoes (in case of breakdown), shovel (to clear snow if necessary), fire extinguisher, rope (for towing if necessary), road atlas, maps etc.

Essentially, safety in the winter comes down to four things: 1. Check your car. 2. Be prepared for anything. 3. Be cautious. 4. Monitor your speed.

If you try to follow these rules you should find yourself on the road to safe winter driving. To make sure your car is ready for the road in the first place, book your car in for a service. Careful preparation by the motorist can only go so far.

To find a reliable garage, motorists should look to the RMIF.

A member will be able to advise you on the type of service you need, and will be able to point out potential problem areas before they arise, or become serious. In fact, whether you want to buy or sell a new or used car or motorcycle, service or repair your existing vehicle, find an auction house, or a cherished number plate dealer, the RMIF will be able to help you.

If you have a complaint against an RMIF member garage, the RMIF's National Conciliation Service should be able to help you get redress, if the problem cannot be solved in direct consultation with that member.

To find a garage that is a member of the RMIF visit www.rmif.co.uk and use the 'Find a Service' function. You will also find details of RMIF members that sell new and used cars or motorcycles, provide vehicle servicing and repair, and sell petrol.

Motorists can also use the RMIF Consumer Motorline - 08457 58 53 50

This will enable you to find all RMIF members mentioned above, and in addition vehicle auctioneers and cherished number plate dealers.

Low-cost used family motors worth investigating further

BUYER advice website UsedCarExpert.com asks – how cheaply can you get some reliable family transport?

Well, says website editor Matt Tumbridge, £2,000 buys an awful lot of car these days.

“And, they are cars that you will think of as being still quite new,” he stresses. “Here are three that should all carry you to over 100,000 miles without too many bills.”

■ Honda Accord: “Lots of space, with refined petrol engines, they are excellent value,” says Tumbridge. “The Accord always offered executive equipment and comfort, with the revised model from 1998 even better, with higher quality build. But the diesel can be a bit raucous.”

Most economical example, the 2.0 Tdi, returns 54.9mpg, and best used buy is the 1.8 VTEC S.

UsedCarExpert.com lists 9 fault checks, and prices a 1.8 VTEC S, from the year 2000, and with around 65,000 miles, at a haggle price of between £1,900 to £2,150.

■ Vauxhall Vectra: “Great for long journeys, the Vectra is tough and economical,” states Tumbridge. “For budget buyers, it makes great sense, especially the estate. Avoid tatty examples.”

Most economical version, the 2.0 Tdi, has an overall 47.1mpg, and best used buy is cited as the 1.6i 16v.

UsedCarExpert.com has a lengthy 17-strong checklist, and prices a year 2000 1.6i 16v LS, with no more than 78,000 miles on the clock, at around £1,625 to £1,925

■ Ford Mondeo: “It is around in huge numbers – but not necessarily at the cheapest prices,” warns Tumbridge. “It has lots of engine options – plus, it is nice to drive and so easy to own.”

Most economical model, the 2.0DCi, returns 48.7mpg, and best used buy is the petrol 1.8.

There's 18 fault checks cited on UsedCarExpert.com, which prices a year 2000 1.8 LX, with 80,000 average miles, at around £1,775 to £2,100 after a good haggle.

■ THE FORD MONDEO... easy to own.

■ THE VAUXHALL VECTRA... great for longer journeys.

Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency
Breaking up ain't hard to do
 Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF)
 Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.
 What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility.

Jodie's six of best tops a team effort

Cottenham Utd Colts 1

CAMBS GIRLS' LEAGUE, UNDER-10 DIVISION

Haverhill completed a convincing victory over second-placed Cottenham.

The team, who are in their first season, remain unbeaten in their league and need only a point to secure the league title.

Some good passing was the highlight of the match, which saw Rovers take control from the start. Player-of-the-match Jodie Bedbrook scored six, but the whole team played well to overcome strong opposition. Abbi Griffin, George Lister and Courtney Lane netted a brace each, while Gabby Kendall, Shannon Atherton and Ella Blowes were faultless in defence. Zoe Chesham, Erin Mortimer, Shannon Mainland and Lia Philips were unavailable for selection, but have contributed to Rovers'

Tony leads the way as Haverhill power on

Haverhill kept up their quest for second place in the Cambridge & District League, Division One at the expense of St Ives.

Tony Reardon gained three wins and was well supported by Rob Cushen and Maria Boulton as Haverhill won 8-2 to keep their highest league finish a possibility, while making it difficult for St Ives to repeat last year's placing as runners-up. But defending champions St George's continued their march to retaining their title with an 8-2 victory against Over and a 7-3 win against Impington.

Nigel Bates' triumph over David Tiplady could not stop Stapleford going down 6-4 to an in-form NCI.

In Division Two, Steve Anisson clinched three wins as St Georges III won 6-4 against Impington II, while St Neots remain unbeaten after seeing off an under-strength Cambridge III 9-1.

Sid Burgess' two victories were the only consolation for St Ives III as they lost 8-2 to Haverhill II.

Leaders Impington III were held to a 5-5 draw by Soham III in Division Three, while Bernie Shannon's success against Owen Davies helped St Ives IV to an 8-2 win against Over II.

Barbara Pace recorded three wins as the all-women team, St Ives V, inflicted a rare 7-3 defeat on Division Four leaders Impington IV, and club-mates and two-man team St Ives VI earned a creditable 5-5 draw with Impington VI.

Results: Division One - Haverhill 8 St Ives 2, Cambridge II 1 St Ives II 9, RCG Stapleford 4 NCI 6, St George's 1 7 Impington 1 3, Over 2 St George's 1 8.

Division Two - St Ives III 2 Haverhill II 8, Impington II 4 St Georges III 6, Cambridge III 1 St Neots 9.

Division Three - Soham III 5 Impington III 5, Over II 2 St Ives IV 8.

Division Four - Impington VI 5 St Ives VI 5, Impington IV 3 St Ives V 7.

Double red is a blow to Rovers

Woodbridge Town 3
Haverhill Rovers 1

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

ROVERS' hopes of avoiding the drop suffered a setback as they were beaten by relegation rivals Woodbridge and had skipper Marcus Hunt and Sam Holmes sent off.

The match was one of only two in Saturday's entire Ridgeons League programme to go ahead as the Arctic conditions gripped East Anglia.

It was a spirited performance from the visitors, not least when they went down to nine men, but ultimately the home side's numerical advantage proved the difference, with Paul Hart claiming a hat-trick.

There were plenty of positives for manager Peter Betts, particularly the performance of keeper Ed Campbell, who saved

Free entry at Hamlet Croft

ADMISSION will be free to Haverhill Rovers' crucial relegation clash with Ely City at Hamlet Croft tomorrow (Friday) evening. With Ely hovering just above the Ridgeons League, Premier Division relegation places, Rovers are hoping for an improvement in the weather and a big crowd to boost their victory chances. The match will be followed by a race night in the clubhouse, which will still go ahead at 8pm, should the game be called off. On Tuesday evening, Rovers have a league match at Wivenhoe.

two penalties and pulled off a string of first-class saves. But it was a game Rovers desperately needed to win, and as the run-in to the season approaches, the pressure is starting to build.

What would eventually turn out to be a bleak afternoon started promisingly for Rovers, with Louis Harper firing them in front after 13 minutes after good play by Sam Green and the lively Harry Halls.

Rovers enjoyed a brief spell on top, but in the 27th minute a deep cross from the left was floated towards their goal. Campbell and Hart both jumped but, in a rare lapse, the keeper dropped the ball and Hart poked it home.

Town then took the lead 10 minutes later from the penalty spot. Another dangerous cross flashed across the goal and as Aaron Churchyard went to meet it he was pushed by Holmes.

Referee Mike Lodge had no hesitation in awarding the spot-kick and Hart lashed it home. Rovers held on until the break but, two minutes into the second half, a lapse in concentration allowed Glenn Snell a run in on goal.

He rounded Campbell, but his shot was stopped on the line by the prostrate Holmes. Claims the ball hit him on the chest fell on deaf ears as Lodge gave him his marching orders.

But Campbell saved Hart's penalty and reacted superbly to block Snell's follow-up.

Rovers battled on but their cause looked lost in the 70th minute when Hunt trod on Woodbridge keeper Ryan Beal following a corner and, despite his protests that it was accidental, Lodge again brandished the red card.

Rovers' fate was finally sealed in the 77th minute when Hart cut inside from the right and shot low into the bottom corner.

As the game reached the closing stages, there was time for one more moment of heroics, Campbell saving Snell's penalty after the forward had been fouled by Neil Hammond.
